

Lifesize Dash™

Affordable, software-based collaboration solution for mini spaces.

Start simply, scale effortlessly.

There's no room for unused office space. It's time to trade in your small, underutilized phone rooms for fully connected collaboration hot spots. Lifesize Dash™ is a software-based video communication solution that turns small, multipurpose meeting spaces into living, breathing catalysts for collaboration that won't break the bank — and it's coming soon!

Lifesize Dash is lightweight by design to run on inexpensive Chromebox™ devices and seamlessly integrates with third-party USB cameras, speakers and microphones, adding much-needed flexibility to your smallest rooms. Easy-to-use meeting controls and wireless sharing simplify the experience for users, while automatic updates and centralized management make it effortless for IT admins to set up, track and manage the solution from one place.
